

Mr Branislav Todorovic (M.Sc.) is Director & Sciences Principal at Epsilon Malta Ltd. He has participated as a scientific contributor & coordinator and as team leader in various R&D and commercial projects (Europe including Russia, Africa Latin America). His background includes 20+ years of experience in environmental sciences & IT (e.g., GIS, CAD, computer control & measurement systems, programming & software development, 3D modelling, databases). He has worked for multidisciplinary projects related to the development of energy and water resources management systems & tools, energy efficiency & conservation, renewable sources & integrated water-energy systems, modelling of processes, public participation, expert systems, various complex designs, and other. He is a Member of the Technical Chamber of Greece (TEE) and of the Serbian Chamber of Engineers, and has authored numerous publications whilst participating at international conferences since 1989.