

Name Paolo Frosini

Position CEO

Title PhD

Gender Male

Paolo Frosini has been working in the field of ICT consultancy and European project design for over 15 years. During his professional experience he has covered positions in public administrations, research centres and private companies, where he has been in charge of designing, developing and implementing research and innovation projects. He has designed several IT systems for Communication activities in EU Projects. He has a degree in Electronic Engineering and a PhD in Automated Computer Engineering. Besides his mother tongue Italian, he speaks excellent English and good French.